

When trying to connect to the service data base, it keeps saying 'Server busy, try later.'

Please email your MAC address and Serial number to support@torianwireless.com. We will check our database to ensure that your InFusion[®] is on the list of allowed users.

The server timeout is due to the high number of devices attempting to access the server. We are currently working on migration to a new database server to allow further simultaneous connections.